Buying RHINO Saves Rhinos

We’ve partnered with Save The Rhino International for over 27 years, recently celebrating a milestone donation of over €150,000; investing in conservation projects to help save and protect this endangered species.

Save the Rhino International is a charity that works to protect all five species of rhino across Africa and Asia; their vision is a world where all five species thrive in the wild.

The RHINO SEN Range

Visual stress affects more people than we might imagine and here at RHINO, we have developed a range of products to help reduce and relieve the symptoms of visual disturbance.

The RHINO tinted exercise books and special education needs (SEN) refill pads with tinted papers are thoughtfully crafted to provide essential support for those who experience challenges, such as tiredness, headaches, or discomfort when working with traditional white paper. These pads are an excellent resource for use at school, college, or work, helping to create a more comfortable and productive learning or working environment.

Available in five soothing colours - blue, green, yellow, pink, and cream - these tinted papers are designed to reduce eye strain, improve focus, and enhance reading comprehension. By minimising visual stress, they make tasks such as reading and writing more manageable and enjoyable. To get the best results, it's worth exploring the different colour options to discover the shade that works most effectively for individual needs.

We are delighted to announce that our RHINO tinted paper range has been awarded the Stationers' Warrant, a formal recognition awarded to companies that supply stationery of exceptional craftsmanship, quality, and service.
